FATHER JANSSENS MADE BISHOP. The Elaborate Programme Successfully Carried Out-The Valedictory.

The scenes attendant on the consecratio Sunday at St. Peter's Cathedral of Right Rev. Francis Janssens as Bishop of Natchez were in many respects unusual in this city, and solemn and impressive to a degree not alone to the faithful, who are supposed to be acquainted with the length and imposing ceremonies of the Church, but to the casual spectator as well. The programme was beautifully carried out in the church without a hitch. The ceremony lasted pearly four hours, and was witnessed from the beginning to the end with deepest attention sermon of Bishop Elder, a part of the consecration service, was able and argumentative, and was listened to with eager interest.

The evening services were very impres sive, when for the first time the newly-consecrated Bishop celebrated pontifical vespers. The Cathedral was literally packed on the occasion; and when in conclusion of the beautiful service and before benediction the beloved and honored Bishop spoke his farewell to his old parishioners, there were few dry eyes in the vast assemblage.

The following is the text of BISHOP JANSSENS'S VALEDICTORY: "Allow me, most reverend right bishops, o offer you my sincere thanks for the great favor you have bestowed on me by coming such a distance to participate in the cerechurch [III. THE COMMITTEE HEARD.

Mr. Edwards's motion was adopted-ayes, 22; noes, 6-the rules were suspended, and Judge Crump addressed the Council. He explained to the Council that the position his associates and himself occupied thirty days for being drank and lying in the was a most embarrassing one. But they did not come as asking any alms, for they had met and been organized at the invitation of the Council. He then went on to urge the importance of making the Centennial a success-of extending that hospitality to our visitors for which this country and this people are so noted. He spoke warmiy. THE REDFORD BENEFIT LAST NIGHT .-Probably not since the last performance of the Adelaide Phillips Opera Company here some years ago—with Tagliapietra and Carl in the cast of Martha—has the Theatre been crowded from pit to dome with so brilliant an audience as that which graced the occasion of the Redford benefit last evening. The upper calleries even were filled with The upper galleries even were filled with ladies. Besides being a deserved tribute to the memory of a noble heart, and one of the sweetest voices that Richmond has ever widowed wife and fatherless little ones. Pinafore was well presented by the Ama-teurs, assisted by one of the largest orchesras the Theatre has enjoyed for many a day—the whole most ably directed by Pro-fessor C. L. Siegel. All had tendered their services freely and without recompense, deeming it doubtless a pleasure to assist in a tribute to one who in life had been so be-loved by them all.

While it would be a pleasure, in particularizing, to mention the especial excellences of some, the fear of doing injustice to the least who worked in so good a cause must excuse our refraining from deserved compliments. We commend them all for their generous efforts. The following was the east: Josephene, Miss Julia Mitchell; Buttercup, Miss Belle Pelouze; Hebe, Miss Columbia Wyatt; Maiden Aunt, Miss Isa Smith; Admiral, Joseph Marshall; Captain Corcoran, Louis W. Pizzini; Ralph, F. W. Cunning-ham; Dick Deadeye, Perrot; Marine, S. Wagner; Boatswain, Marshall Ramos.
